

March 24, 2004

Blooms in Complex

This past weekend members from the Community Garden Club of Duxbury in conjunction with the DAA presented a show at the "Blooms at the Complex" in which members became floral artisans and reflected in their arrangements the chosen artwork from the Winter Juried Show.

By Chance (billiard table scene) Designer, Carmella Goddard.

Kouda, Keeper of Gourds (sculpture): Designers, Shirley Carter & Luli MacNaught.

March 17, 2004

Blooms at the Complex

Signs of spring will be in evidence at the Art Complex Museum when members of the Community Garden Club of Duxbury present Blooms at the Complex on Saturday and Sunday, Mar. 20 and 21, from 1-4 p.m.

Paintings in a wide range of media have been selected from the DAA's Annual Winter Juried Show currently on exhibit at the museum. Members will interpret these works with their own creative floral designs. The event is free and open to the public.

Join Community Garden Club members and the Duxbury Art Association as they celebrate spring with Blooms at the Complex, March 20 and 21 at the Duxbury Art Complex. Club members use the art of floral arranging to reflect the art of chosen pieces from the Winter Juried Show, as shown in this photo.